CORRESPONDENT'S MESSAGE

Rev. Fr. Dr. M. Maria William

My dear Xaviarens,

Joyful greetings to all of you as we bring forth the September issue of "Campus Connect". We are busy with our daily grind. Everyone goes about carrying out their duties with single concentration. Even the freshers seem to know the way around to fulfill their academic and non-academic requirements with ease.

The campus has its full strength now. The energetic vibrations of the exuberant students reverberate everywhere in the campus. Year by year our activities are increasing, especially after we became an autonomous institution. The Campus Connect has increasingly more matter to present that our tri-monthly has become a monthly. At one side regular classes are going on and at another, seminars, conferences, talks, sports activities etc. are going on in full swing.

I am immensely happy that we are able to sign up few MoUs to start Excellence Centers. Excellence centers are going to be a big boon for the students to develop special technical skills and be assured of a promising future.

The inauguration functions of the freshers, both UG and PG celebrated with lots of enthusiasm and gaiety surely made the freshers feel very much welcomed and hopeful. Having Dr. T.V. Venkateswaran, Senior Scientist, Vigyan Prasar-DST as the Chief-guest for the function made a big impact in St. Xavier's family and the public.

The very useful and enriching interaction the staff and the students had with him after the celebrations has opened many a new vista for research and study. Having this event as a big inspiration we have initiated a program called "Meet the Great", i.e. to bring luminaries from different fields, technical or otherwise, and interact with them, to be enlightened and inspired by them.

I would like to wish all of us days of great positive experiences and learning that all of us become better human beings and brilliant students and professionals.
