CORRESPONDENT'S MESSAGE

Rev. Fr. Dr. M. Maria William

Dear Friends,

I am immensely happy to get in touch with you again through this issue of our Campus Connect. I see our college improving day by day with different kinds of activities.

A chain of inauguration events of our professional and nonprofessional cells have initiated activities of our students in different arenas and we are witnessing a bristling campus these days. To add to that we have placement events, seminars and trainings conducted by personnel from different companies, Industrial Visits, Local Visits etc. are making life in the campus really lively. On and off we also hear the happy news of our students winning accolades from different hackathons, project competitions and talent shows.

As we all know, our college do not satisfy itself with mediocre achievements; true to our quality policy we look for excellence in all that we do. Our intention is not just preparing our students to manage the demands of the present technical scenario of our universe. We usher in the demands of the future world to qualify our present efforts. That is, we try to speculate scientifically what the future is going to be and try to predict the changes that will occur in the future society as a result of ever unfolding new technologies; and accordingly we prepare our students for the future society.

Developing students into creative technocrats having disposition for critical and creative thinking, proficient in practical and productive knowledge and skills is the best way to prepare our students for the future. Let us all put our heads and shoulders together and forge innovative strategies and practice them effectively.

Wishing you all fulfilling experience in our college.
